

The background of the poster is a collage of watercolor illustrations. At the top, there are several mushrooms in shades of brown and tan, some with gills, and green leaves. On the right side, there's a large mushroom with a bright orange cap and a thick, light blue stem. Below it are more autumn leaves in shades of green and yellow. On the left side, there are clusters of red berries on thin branches. In the bottom left, there's a group of small, light-colored mushrooms growing from a log. At the bottom center, there are more colorful mushrooms, including one with a yellow cap and another with a red cap. In the bottom right, there's a mushroom with a red cap and a blue stem, similar to the one on the right side. The overall style is soft and artistic, with a focus on nature and fungi.
